

Restrict Thesis Release Date

Restriction or Embargo on the Release of your Thesis Contents

It is the intention of the University of Toronto that there be no restriction on the distribution and publication of theses. However, in exceptional cases, the author, in consultation with the thesis supervisor and with the approval of the Chair of the graduate unit, shall have the right to postpone public access for a period of up to two years from the date of the student's convocation.

Restricting the release date requires signatures of both the author and the Chair of the author's graduate unit. This form must be submitted to the Doctoral or Masters Office of the School of Graduate Studies and a copy retained at the candidate's graduate unit.

Reason for delay of publication:

Publication by U of T Libraries & the National Library of Canada is hereby postponed until:

which is: one year after convocation or two years after convocation

Date of Convocation:

Author:

Chair of Graduate Unit:

Author's Signature

Chair's Signature

Name & Student Number - Print

Name - Print

Degree (Master or Doctoral)

Graduate Department

Date of Signature

Date of Signature